Heading: Draft Annual Police Plan 2023/2024

1. Summary

- 1.1 Strategic planning arrangements for policing in Scotland are set out in the Police and Fire Reform (Scotland) Act 2012. The Scottish Police Authority (SPA) is responsible for developing a strategic police plan for policing that reflects the Scottish Government's national outcomes, strategic police priorities and justice strategy.
- 1.2 Police Scotland is responsible for producing an annual police plan that sets out the arrangements to deliver against the strategic police plan in the year ahead. Delivery against the annual plan is described in the quarterly performance reports submitted to SPA and based on a performance framework. Similar legislative arrangements exist at local level, with Police Scotland responsible for producing local police plans for each local authority and reporting performance via this scrutiny sub-committee.
- 1.3 Police Scotland is currently preparing an Annual Police Plan setting out the proposed arrangements for policing in the year ahead. Police Scotland reached out to COSLA in March 2023, seeking feedback on the draft document. Given the strategic importance of the Plan, COLSA took a paper to the COSLA Community Wellbeing Board meeting on 21 April 2023 to review the document in more detail and formally consider COSLA's position on the plan. Police Scotland have advised that COSLA's submission will be a key consideration as the plan is implemented throughout the year. They will ensure that the submission is highlighted through their internal governance to enable them to continue to work closely with COSLA and local authority partners.

- 1.4 Prior to publication, the plan is laid before the Scottish Parliament and made visible to the SPA. Upon publication, activities related to the outcomes and objectives are monitored through Police Scotland's quarterly performance reports, informed by our performance framework. These reports are presented to the SPA. A biannual report, specific to the progress of the Annual Police Plan is presented to the SPA and made available to the public online.
  - 1.5 The draft Police Scotland Annual Plan 2023/24 is attached to this document as Appendix 1. Strong partnership working is already well established in Renfrewshire which will help support Police priorities which are aligned to the Local Policing Plan 2023-2026 published on 1st April 2023 and Renfrewshire Community Plan.

2. Recommendations

It is recommended that the Police and Fire & Rescue Scrutiny Sub Committee:

- 2.1 Notes the content of the draft annual Police Plan 2023/24 attached as Appendix 1 to this report.
  - 2.2 Support the Chief Executives response to COSLA (as detailed in Section 3.10 – 3.13) welcoming the opportunity to comment on the draft Plan, and that this Sub Committee agrees with the priorities and objectives set out in the proposed draft Annual Plan 2023/24.

3. Background

- 3.1 Police Scotland's priorities are influenced by several factors including ongoing engagement with the public and communities of Scotland; the Scottish Government's Strategic Police Priorities; and the five strategic outcomes in the plan are directly aligned with the Joint Strategy for Policing (2020).
- 3.2 Your View Counts survey (a year-round survey that allows anyone to comment) provides useful feedback, along with Police Scotland's analysis of the risks and emerging threats likely to impact on Scotland's communities, to establish and reinforce Police Scotland priorities.

- 3.3 The draft annual plan attached as Appendix 1 clearly highlights the challenges faced by Police Scotland and communities in the face of the pandemic over the past couple of years and that recovery, for everyone, will be important.
- 3.4 It seeks to set a clear direction for the service, taking into account the significant business as usual demands on policing, the ongoing pandemic, leadership of high-profile UK events and continued focus on enabling policing for the future.
- 3.5 The draft Annual Police Plan sets out what Police Scotland will do in the coming year to make progress against their strategic outcomes and objectives; and address their priorities for policing.
- 3.6 The 5 strategic outcomes in the 2023/24 draft Annual Plan are based around the Joint Strategy for Policing with 3 objectives lying under each:

- Threats to public safety and wellbeing are resolved by a proactive and responsive police service
  - We keep people safe in the physical and digital world #
  - Design services jointly to tackle complex public safety and wellbeing challenges
  - We support policing through proactive prevention
- The needs of local communities are addressed through effective service delivery
  - Understand our communities and deliver the right mix of services to meet their needs
  - Support our communities through a blend of local and national expertise
  - Support the changing nature of communities
- The public, communities and partners are engaged, involved and have confidence in policing
  - Embed the ethical and privacy considerations that are integral to policing and protection into every aspect of the service
  - Protect the public and promote wellbeing across Scotland by providing services that are relevant, accessible and effective
  - Work with local groups and public, third and private sector organisations to support communities
- Our people are supported through a positive working environment, enabling them to serve the public
  - Prioritise wellbeing and keep our people safe, well equipped and protected

- Support our people to be confident leaders, innovative, active contributors and influencers
- Support our people to identify with and demonstrate Police Scotland values and have a strong sense of belonging

- Police Scotland is sustainable, adaptable and prepared for future challenges

- Use innovative approaches to accelerate our capacity and capability for effective service delivery
- Commit to making a positive impact through outstanding environmental sustainability
- Support operational policing through the appropriate digital tools and delivery of best value

- 3.7 The plan is fully aligned to the revised outcomes focused performance framework, with impact measures identified for each outcome and objective.
- 3.8 The draft Annual Plan breaks down each strategic outcome, the objective, how Police Scotland plan to achieve this objective and how they will measure this.
- 3.9 The content and focus of the draft plan reflect the issues and challenges faced locally and are in line with and support the objectives of the Community Safety Partnership. There is a strong track record of partnership working within Renfrewshire and this collaborative approach ensures early intervention and resolution. It supports the Council response to the draft, welcoming the opportunity to comment and supporting the priorities and objectives set out in the draft Plan.
- 3.10 With the strong partnership working already well established within Renfrewshire (K Division), it will help support the Police priorities which are closely aligned with those in the Renfrewshire Community Plan. Police Scotland are active partners in the protection of vulnerable adults, children, and the management of offenders within Renfrewshire. The local division contribute effectively to planning and responding to these agendas by their active membership of the Renfrewshire Adult and Child Protection Committees and the Senior Officer Group for the Management of Offenders.
- 3.11 Also, as members of the CONTEST strategic Groups which helps drive the safeguarding and public protection agenda collaboratively. It is welcome to see the plan highlight the cost-of-living crisis and monitoring potential protests given that this would not have been a major part of previous plans. In the same vein, consideration should be given to discussing and monitoring the safety of refugee movement in Scotland as the landscape has changed massively in the past year given Ukrainian refugee integration into Scotland that wasn't part of the 2022/23 Annual Police Plan.

- 3.12 Police Scotland have ably assisted local authorities with the challenges faced with the Sponsorship programme and re-housing of Ukrainians. Locally, Renfrewshire (and other local authorities) faced protests with regards to the re-housing of refugees (non-Ukrainians) and we believe that the Annual Plan should reflect the on-going work being done by Police Scotland in this regard.
- 3.13 With legislation due on the new PROTECT duty (Martyn's Law), the work being done by Police Scotland alongside local authorities should be referenced as a key priority in the coming year/s. Renfrewshire Council will continue to develop sharing of information intelligence and data to support the existing effective partnership working to help ensure that priorities locally are met.

Police Scotland Annual Police Plan 2023/24 - DRAFT

AUTHORITY

Police Scotland: keeping people safe

The roles and responsibilities of Police Scotland and the Scottish Police Authority (SPA) are set out in the Police and Fire Reform (Scotland) Act 2012. Police Scotland works with the SPA who provide scrutiny, support and challenge to policing, having an integral role in maintaining and improving the service. The Scottish Government has overarching responsibility for communities, public safety and justice in Scotland. Police Scotland provides evidence to the Scottish Parliament Criminal Justice Committee at regular hearings with regards to law enforcement and public safety. The alignment of our strategic direction, priorities for policing, planning and performance framework are as follows:

Scottish Government (SG) National Outcomes & Strategic Police Priorities

SG's Programme for Government and National Performance Framework sets out what it wants to achieve for Scotland's people and communities, brought together by describing what the "outcome" will be. All public services have a role to play, including policing. The Justice Vision outlines the contribution Police Scotland and a range of partners will play in transforming the way justice is served in Scotland.

The Strategic Police Priorities (SPPs) set the high level strategic direction for the policing of Scotland and the carrying out of the Scottish Police Authority's (SPA) functions. The SPPs are set by Scottish Ministers and the legal framework for their development was established in the Police and Fire Reform \(Scotland\) Act 2012 ("the Act"). The SPPs are Crime and Security, Confidence, Partnerships, Sustainability, People and Evidence.

Scottish Police Authority – Strategic Police Plan

Under the Police and Fire Reform (Scotland) Act 2012 the SPA is responsible for producing a strategic police plan, in line with these outcomes and priorities. The Joint Strategy for Policing \(2023\), Policing for a safe, protected and resilient Scotland fulfils that requirement.

Policing in Scotland: our vision, values and purpose

Our Vision: Policing for a safe protected and resilient Scotland.

Our values are fairness, integrity, respect and human rights. They are fundamental to everything we do as they underpin our policing approach, engagement and activities.

Our purpose as set out in the Act is to improve the safety and wellbeing of people, places and communities in Scotland

Police Scotland's National Strategic Assessment

Police Scotland's Strategic Assessment provides a high level assessment of a range of strategic issues and potential threats relevant to Police Scotland, both externally and internally to Police Scotland. From this, we decide how to prioritise our services to meet current and future challenges.

Police Scotland's priorities for policing

Our priorities for policing are the key areas we need to focus on to address the greatest threats and risk of harm to people and communities. We decide what these are for the year ahead using our strategic assessment and the knowledge and experience of leaders in the service. They are also informed by public opinion.

Our strategic outcomes

We use five strategic outcomes to describe the results Police Scotland is working towards for the people of Scotland. This helps us to show how we will make a positive impact through what we are doing across the service. Our outcomes contribute to the Scottish Government's outcomes and policing priorities.

The Annual Police Plan

Under the Police and Fire Reform (Scotland) Act 2012 Police Scotland is responsible for producing this Annual Police Plan, which aligns to our Strategic Outcomes and sets out a policing approach and strategic-level activities for policing during the year. Prior to publication, the plan is laid before the Scottish Parliament and made visible to the SPA.

Deputy Chief Constable / Deputy Chief Officer (DCC/DCO) Portfolio Delivery Plans

Supporting the Annual Police Plan are four 3 year Delivery Plans for; Local Policing; Corporate Support; Professionalism, Strategy and Engagement; and Crime and Operational Support.

Local Policing Plans / Local Outcome Improvement Plans

Local policing divisions prepare Local Police Plans (LPPs) which describe the local priorities and policing arrangements aligning with Scotland's local authority areas and community planning arrangements, based on local engagement with local partners. The latest versions of LPPs for 2023-26 have been published alongside this plan.

Enabler Strategies

An ever-changing and challenging world in terms of environmental impact, evolving technology, emerging risks and financial constraints has an impact on all public services, not least policing. In order to ensure Police Scotland is providing a forward-looking, flexible policing response, we have “enabler” strategies to guide the organisation. These are our Fleet, Environment, Cyber, Estates, People, Public Contact and Engagement, Enabling Policing for the Future, Digital Data Information and Communication (DDICT), Violence against Women and Girls (VAWG), Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) and Procurement Strategies.

Performance Framework

Linked to our plans, our outcomes-focused performance framework describes how we will monitor and measure progress on our priorities for policing, outcomes and objectives to evidence the impact of our policing approach for the public and communities in Scotland.

Context

The changing nature of crime, society and the role of policing

Throughout 2022/23 Police Scotland has continued to support our local communities through the challenging times that we currently face. Continued pandemic recovery, a rising cost of living alongside security issues, nationally and internationally, continue to shape demand and inform service provision.

We were honoured to play our part in ceremonial events following the death of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, with officers and staff across the organisation playing a vital role in demonstrating the professional nature of policing in Scotland.

Our commitment to a level of service that the public can have confidence in remains a priority, as does collaborating and coordinating with partner agencies in order to best serve the communities of Scotland. We continue to focus on maintaining and building levels of trust and confidence in policing. We will continue to work and develop our engagement in order to reach and build confidence with those in our Seldom Heard Communities. As a service we must continue to evolve and develop our means of communication and contact to ensure that we are visible and available for all of the different communities that we serve and protect.

Through extensive consultation with stakeholders and partners, Police Scotland has published a Violence Against Women and Girls (VAWG) strategy and implementation plan to work towards our vision of a society where women and girls can live free from all forms of violence, abuse, exploitation and harassment. The Vision for Justice in Scotland 2022 sets out to transform the justice sector and outlines the role of public services in achieving this.

We have also committed to delivering our Policing Together strategy. Through our “Policing Together” initiative we will focus on our values, behaviours and standards, ensuring that Police Scotland is a welcoming and inclusive organisation which reflects, represents and serves all of our communities.

Demands on policing continue to evolve, becoming more complex and rising to unprecedented levels. The digital capacity and capability of criminal behaviour is increasing, whilst our officers continue to attend a high number of incidents associated with vulnerability; this not only presents challenges but opportunities to put in place innovative partnerships to provide the right response at the right time to those most in need.

Violence against women and girls – “That Guy” campaign video and website viewed over 4m times including 2.3m engagements on social media worldwide	Equality, Diversity &amp; Inclusion – increased our staff profile to reflect our communities in Scotland
Drug seizures – there has been a general upwards trend in drug supply detections since February 2022	Vulnerability – Over 185,000 calls received regarding vulnerable people in our communities
Public Satisfaction / User Experience – 85% of people contacted in recent survey, were satisfied with our service. Our User Experience Survey engages with around 2,500 people monthly	Your Police survey – Over 70,000 people have helped shape our local and national services in the past year
Cybercrime – detection rates for cyber related fraud have increased in the past year. Recorded fraud increased nearly 80% in a year- the cyber investigation team had an increase in demand of 2000% from 2019 (16) to 2022 (220)	Caithness Project – Successful pilot scheme of participatory budgeting. The initial budget of £32,000 has been allocated to all projects which received the strongest support from residents
Professionalism – introduced new continuous integrity screening programme to protect colleagues and the public

Policing in 2023/24

2023/24 will continue to be challenging for Police Scotland with anticipated continued rise in demand for the support of public services requiring us to respond to a range of challenges and events. This Annual Police Plan sets out the activities we will undertake over the coming year to support our strategic outcomes and objectives.

At a time when public finances are under pressure, Police Scotland will proactively look to update our operating model so we remain an effective and efficient service for our communities in a more digital and socially diverse environment. We will work tirelessly to ensure that we protect our policing services and response for the public and communities across Scotland.

Through public and stakeholder engagement we will work to design our estate to be the right size and to be able to fully support operational policing. Innovative approaches will be utilised to make sure that we continue to be accessible, visible and supporting all of the public and communities we serve.

Cyber-enabled and cyber-dependent threats will continue to both increase and evolve. It is important that we tackle these directly. We will continue to improve our specialist capabilities and strengthen local, national and international partnerships to combat this area of criminality.

This plan sets a clear direction for the service, taking into account the significant demands on policing, and a continued focus on transformation, collaboration and partnership working that will enable us to build a sustainable service for the future. We will continue to focus on local policing response, Contact Command and Control, and public protection work to address our policing priorities and contribute to better outcomes across all of our communities.

As we reach ten years since the creation of Police Scotland, we will recognise this as significant milestone for the service. We will continue to develop and deliver key changes over the duration of this plan based on our strategic direction, which will benefit the communities of Scotland and support continued trust and confidence in policing.

The Annual Police plan sets out the key areas of focus for the service at strategic level. The development of the APP has included consideration and prioritisation of the needs of the public and communities we serve along with the wider operating environment. The activities set out within this plan will be kept under review in an open and transparent manner.

Police Scotland has a clear strategic direction and is ready to focus on the implementation and delivery of key changes to support the public and communities.

Priorities for policing

To respond effectively to emerging threats, risk and harm our policing priorities are reviewed and set annually through Police Scotland's National Strategic Assessment.

The following sets out how we identify our priorities for policing:

We also complete impact assessments to ensure we take action on any elements of our planning which could impact on equalities, communities or provisions within the Islands (Scotland) Act 2018.

The national strategic assessment has been refreshed for 2023. The following priorities for policing have been identified for this plan's duration.

DRAFT for stakeholders

Our Priorities for Policing
Protecting vulnerable people	Policing in a Digital World
Working with communities	Support for operational policing
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Community Wellbeing</li> <li>• Drug importation, supply &amp; harm</li> <li>• Violence against women and girls (VAWG)</li> <li>• Child sexual exploitation &amp; abuse incl. online</li> <li>• Rape &amp; serious sexual offences</li> <li>• Domestic abuse</li> <li>• Serious organised crime</li> <li>• Human trafficking &amp; Organised Immigration</li> <li>• Violent crime incl. homicide</li> <li>• Counter Terrorism</li> <li>• Public order &amp; safety</li> <li>• Cybercrime incl. fraud</li> <li>• Hate crime</li> <li>• Prevention &amp; early intervention</li> </ul>
Our Organisational Priorities
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Governance, strategic direction &amp; change</li> <li>• Organisational design</li> <li>• Resources &amp; demand</li> <li>• Public health approach</li> <li>• Our people</li> <li>• Contact and engagement</li> <li>• Finance and sustainability</li> <li>• Organisational resilience</li> <li>• Equality, Diversity &amp; Inclusion (EDI)</li> </ul>

Local assessments are also refreshed annually and our Local Police Plans 2023-26 are aligned with our strategic direction but focused on local priorities and needs. We continue to provide a national policing response, delivered locally.

User Experience and Your Police insights

Police Scotland has built and maintains a range of high-quality activity that involves the public, communities and our partners in shaping and assessing our services. Strong response rates to our national surveys were maintained throughout 2022 making Police Scotland's public engagement activity robust and representative. We now have over 100,000 responses gathered through our sector-leading surveys like 'Your Police' focusing on public confidence in local policing, on user experience and on the experiences of victim-survivors of violence against women and girls. A further 85 surveys were designed for internal business areas on specific themes and areas which influence service delivery.

We have continued to enhance our approaches to ensure our research public engagement activities are inclusive and non-stigmatising. All of our public surveys are available in British Sign Language and Easy Read and we are working towards availability of further languages. A series of focus groups, interviews and workshops were carried out to understand the lived experiences and perceptions of diverse communities of different age groups for informing our Violence against Women and Girls Strategy and connected approaches in public protection and local policing. Going forwards, we seek to expand the approaches we use in order to create more opportunities to listen, understand and respond to the challenges affecting communities.

Our independently led, User Experience Survey has over 48,000 responses from people who have directly used our services since it was launched in 2020, with over 15,000 people providing us with feedback to inform our service design in 2022. The Your Police open survey has been published each year since 2019, with over 71,000 people taking time to tell us their views on policing. Our largest continuous surveys (Your Police and User Experience) continue to be broadly representative of the population by age, gender, disability, and geography. A range of research is supporting policing in Scotland to understand and work collectively with people and communities often marginalised. It is vital that policing understands the lived experience of people who are seldom-heard and this informs our evidence-led approach to policing in Scotland.

Annual Police Plan 2023/24

The Annual Police Plan sets out what we will do in the coming year to make progress against our strategic outcomes and objectives; and address our priorities for policing.

Strategic outcomes

Our strategic outcomes describe the impact Police Scotland strives to achieve in the lives of people in Scotland; they represent our priorities for policing in the year ahead.

Our five strategic outcomes are directly aligned with the Joint Strategy for Policing (2023).

Threats to public safety and wellbeing are resolved by a proactive and responsive police service

The needs of local communities are addressed through effective service delivery

Public, communities and partners are engaged, involved and have confidence in policing

Our people are supported through a positive working environment, enabling them to serve the public

Police Scotland is sustainable, adaptable and prepared for future challenges

Strategic Alignment

Our strategic outcomes provide a clear route from the Scottish Government's outcomes and priorities, including the Justice Strategy, through Police Scotland's strategies, plans and performance reporting, enabling us to demonstrate alignment and clearly articulate our ambitions and progress.

Joint Strategy for Policing (2023) – Policing for a safe, protected and resilient Scotland

The Scottish Police Authority and Police Scotland set out the strategic direction and associated outcomes for policing in this document. This drives Police Scotland's approach to all other strategies and implementation plans, ensuring a consistent cascade of purpose for policing in Scotland.

Annual Police Plan

This plan summarises what we will do in the coming year to make progress against our strategic outcomes and priorities for policing. The Annual Police Plan is underpinned by more detailed plans at Deputy Chief Constable and Deputy Chief Officer level.

Performance Framework

Our outcomes focused performance framework is linked to our plans and describes how we will monitor and measure progress on our priorities for policing and strategic outcomes. This is developed alongside the Annual Police Plan.

Enabler Strategies

Police Scotland is constantly working towards making the service sustainable, environmentally responsible, more efficient and continually relevant in a world of innovation and developing technologies. Our enabler strategies give direction and commitment to key areas such as People, Fleet, Cyber, Estates, Public Contact and Engagement, Environment, Procurement, Enabling Policing for the Future, DDICT, EDI, and VAWG. These are reviewed every three years or before if required to ensure they remain fit for purpose.

Local Police Plans

In addition to the Annual Police Plan, Police Scotland's 13 local policing divisions produce Local Police Plans. The content and character of Local Police Plans are determined by Local Area and Divisional Commanders engaging with local authorities, who are each responsible for approving their respective Local Police Plan through local authority scrutiny boards. These local plans reference distinct priorities, objectives, outcomes and performance measures aimed at improving the lives of people in our communities. They link to wider community planning arrangements, with Local Outcome Improvement Plans taken into account in their development. Our Local Police Plans have been refreshed for 2023.

Outcome 1.

Threats to public safety and wellbeing are resolved by a proactive and responsive police service

To protect people effectively, Police Scotland will continue to focus on keeping the public and communities in Scotland safe from harm, whilst exploring innovative technologies and partnerships.

We find ourselves moving at an ever-increasing pace from the physical to the digital world; a move that creates opportunities for new and complex crime types. This shift also affects traditional crime, much of which now has a digital element.

Police Scotland will continue to be a key contributor to local joint planning and delivery, as well as to national cross-sectoral partnerships, helping drive a shift to prevention and early intervention across services.

Outcome 2.

The needs of local communities are addressed through effective service delivery

The role of policing is to keep people safe, wherever they live. We will continue to improve the services we provide as society evolves, ensuring we embed accessibility and inclusivity into all our services.

For policing to meet the needs of our local communities we must work closely with individuals, their representatives and other service providers to ensure we have a shared understanding of the environment and the role of policing within it.

We continue to benefit from being a national service, with all areas being able to call upon additional operational support and specialist services to assist with incidents and investigations, large planned and unplanned events, and other situations where these resources are needed. We recognise that different areas of the country differ in their requirements from Police Scotland. The organisation works closely with the Scottish Government in line with provisions made in the Islands (Scotland) Act 2018 to ensure that the specific needs of rural and island communities are considered in wider policy.

Outcome 3.

The public, communities and partners are engaged, involved and have confidence in policing

Our values are at the heart of everything we do. Our human rights based approach to policing along with ethical and privacy considerations are of the utmost importance to the service we provide. Public confidence in policing impacts how safe individuals feel. The communities we serve should feel confident that we will always police in a way that is fully underpinned by our values of fairness, integrity, respect and human rights.

The safety and wellbeing of the people we serve are enhanced by providing services that work efficiently. We will listen and seek to understand the changing needs of diverse communities, bringing both professionalism and empathy to our interactions.

Engaging with people strengthens relevance, responsiveness and accountability and builds trust. It helps us learn about people and create services that meet their needs. We will improve and refocus our engagement activities to ensure that we are reaching diverse communities.

Outcome 5.

Police Scotland is sustainable, adaptable and prepared for future challenges

Ongoing political, technological, economic and societal changes as well as unforeseeable emergencies on a local and global scale require the police service to adapt and respond to future challenges in order to maximise the benefits of future opportunities. This includes working to reduce the impact of our activity, estates and fleet on the environment. Police Scotland aims to make a significant contribution to the Scottish Government's 2040 carbon neutral target and 2045 zero greenhouse gas emissions target.

Everyone has a role to play in improving financial sustainability, making efficient use of resources and eliminating waste to deliver best value. Procurement of and demand for goods and services will remain under scrutiny, ensuring resources are used in the most efficient way possible to meet the greatest need.

DRAFT for stakeholders

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

The work of Police Scotland is underpinned by our commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion in our interactions with the communities we serve as well as our own staff.

We are committed to developing and promoting best practice in the refresh of our Equality outcomes for 2023. These can be found along with our commitment and duties to equality, diversity & inclusion at: <https://www.scotland.police.uk/about-us/how-we-do-it/equality-and-diversity/>

This plan was subject to an Equalities and Human Rights Impact Assessment (EqHRIA) in compliance with the Scottish Public Sector Equality Duty. This document can be found at: <https://www.scotland.police.uk/about-us/police-scotland/strategic-planning/> [note – this will be completed prior to publication]

Separate EqHRIAs will be undertaken for the activities described in this plan as required.

Governance and Performance

Effective scrutiny and oversight are key elements to ensure that policing retains the trust and confidence of the communities of Scotland. We pride ourselves on transparency and accountability and as such, have created comprehensive and robust arrangements for the governance of this plan and monitoring our performance.

Prior to publication, the plan is laid before the Scottish Parliament and made visible to the SPA. Upon publication, activities related to the outcomes and objectives are monitored through Police Scotland's quarterly performance reports, informed by our performance framework. These reports are presented to the SPA. A biannual report, specific to the progress of the APP is presented to the SPA and made available to the public online.

Accountability

Accountability

The governance structures outlined are designed to ensure that Police Scotland provides a service that is relevant, legitimate and consistent with the principle of 'policing by consent'.

Scottish Police Authority

Police Scotland present information and reports on a frequent basis to the SPA. All board and committee meetings are available online. Please visit this site for further details:

<https://www.spa.police.uk/meetings/>

Justice Sub-Committee on Policing

Key policing issues are discussed by the Scottish Parliament's Justice Sub-Committee on Policing. Please visit this site for further details:

<http://www.parliament.scot/parliamentarybusiness/CurrentCommittees/policing-sub-committee.aspx>

Crime and Justice Statistics are published by Scottish Government. Please visit this site for further details: <http://www.gov.scot/Topics/Statistics/Browse/Crime-Justice>

Local scrutiny

Each of Scotland's local authorities also has scrutiny arrangements in place to allow them to influence policing at a local level. This successful partnership between local authorities and local Police Scotland divisions is evident in close working relationship within Community Planning Partnerships and other local planning arrangements.

His Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary in Scotland (HMICS)

HMICS provides independent scrutiny of both Police Scotland and the SPA to deliver services that are high quality, continually improving, effective and responsive to local needs.

Police Investigation and Review Commissioner (PIRC)

The PIRC undertakes independent investigations into the most serious incidents involving the police and provides independent scrutiny of the way police bodies operating in Scotland respond to complaints from the public.

Engaging with us

We want to hear from you

Meaningful and effective engagement involves genuine dialogue, respect, integrity, transparency and accountability. It provides an opportunity for people to shape our services and influence decisions made. Insight from effective engagement helps identify practical solutions and determine changes required to meet the needs of the communities we serve.

Police Scotland is committed to continuous improvement in all that we do. If you have something to tell us about the Annual Police Plan or our service, please contact us at: <https://www.scotland.police.uk/contact-us/>

Public engagement and insight

As part of the development of the Annual Police Plan we have undertaken a period of engagement in early 2023 to allow the public and our partners to provide feedback regarding our strategic direction. Questions on our Annual Police Plan and priorities have been included in Police Scotland's Your Police Survey from 6 February 2023 to 23 March 2023. The results of the engagement showed support for the outcomes, objectives and direction set out. This feedback was captured and used to shape the final version of this Plan. Further information about this and our wider engagement can be found on our consultation and engagement hub at: <https://consult.scotland.police.uk/>

Social media

Police Scotland has a number of active social media channels that provide a range of information and insight into policing, both nationally and in your local area. A full list of our social media accounts can be found on our website. Our main national channels can be found at:

Twitter: @policescotland

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/PoliceScotland>

Please note that our social media channels are not monitored 24/7 and should not be used for reporting crime. Please dial 999 in an emergency, and 101 in a non-emergency situation.

Inclusive and accessible engagement

We aim to embed accessibility and inclusivity into our services to make them work for everyone.

This Annual Police Plan was subject to an Equality and Human Rights Impact Assessment (EqHRIA). A summary of the EqHRIA has been published alongside this document on the Police Scotland website: TO BE UPDATED

This Annual Police Plan can be made available in various alternative formats. For more information, please contact us via our online form: <https://www.scotland.police.uk/contact-us/>.

Deaf, deafened, hard of hearing or speech-impaired callers can contact us via Text Relay on 18001101.
