Report by: Director of Children's Services

Heading: Education Scotland Inspection of Park Mains High School

1. Summary

- 1.1 Park Mains High School was inspected by Education Scotland in November 2022 as part of a national sample of education. Education Scotland uses different models of inspection and at Park Mains High School the duration of the inspection was the short model. Inspectors assessed the school with a focus on two quality indicators, which were: learning, teaching and assessment and raising attainment and achievement.
- 1.2 This was a positive inspection which evaluated both quality indicators as 'good'.
- 1.3 The inspection report in the form of a letter to parents, published by Education Scotland on 24 January 2023, is attached as an appendix to this report and is also available from the Director of Children's Services or from the Education Scotland website. The letter to parents identified three key strengths of the school. These were:
- The staff, with strong leadership from the headteacher and senior leadership team, are establishing a culture of aspiration across the school. This is increasingly engaging young people more effectively in their learning.
 - Across the school, there are examples of strong practice in learning and teaching. Where these are most effective, young people benefit from learning that is creative, active, challenging, and well-paced.

- Young people are developing a range of skills through a wide variety of opportunities to learn, attain and achieve across a range of contexts. Achievements are celebrated widely, and this is motivating young people well.
- 1.4 The inspection report also identified three areas for further improvement:
- Senior leaders have correctly identified learning and teaching as a key priority in the school improvement plan. Maintaining this focus on high-quality learning and teaching will help to ensure that all learners experience learning and teaching that meets their needs.
 - Continue to improve attainment, particularly building on recent improvements in young people's attainment in numeracy.
 - Continue to develop the skills of staff at all levels in using information and data to inform and evaluate priorities for improvement.
- 1.5 There is an agreed set of procedures for responding to inspection reports which will support the school and Children's Services to plan how the area for further improvement will be addressed. Actions are detailed within the school improvement plan which is shared with parents. In addition, the school will be supported in its improvement journey by Children's Services.

2. Recommendations

- 2.1 Members of the Education and Children's Services Policy Board are asked to note and celebrate the key strengths and recognise the area for further improvement in the Education Scotland report on Park Mains High School.

3. Background

- 3.1 Following a pause to inspections due to the pandemic, Education Scotland's routine programme of inspection of schools and early years settings resumed in September 2022. Children's Services welcomes the process of audit undertaken by Education Scotland as supportive to continuous improvement in Renfrewshire's education establishments. The school team at Park Mains High School approached the inspection in a positive manner and embraced it as a professional learning opportunity in partnership with colleagues at Education Scotland.
- 3.2 The report includes three areas for further improvement, and progress in addressing this will be monitored by Children's Services staff through the Quality Improvement Framework.
- 3.3 The inspection report will inform planned improvement activity, and will enable the school and wider service, to build on the recognised strengths and focus further development on areas for improvement to enable the school to continue to deliver a quality educational provision.

Dear Parent/Carer

In November 2022, a team of inspectors from Education Scotland visited Park Mains High School. During our visit, we talked to parents/carers and young people and worked closely with the headteacher and staff.

The inspection team found the following strengths in the school's work.

- The staff, with strong leadership from the headteacher and senior leadership team, are establishing a culture of aspiration across the school. This is increasingly engaging young people more effectively in their learning.
- Across the school, there are examples of strong practice in learning and teaching. Where these are most effective, young people benefit from learning that is creative, active, challenging, and well-paced.
- Young people are developing a range of skills through a wide variety of opportunities to learn, attain and achieve across a range of contexts. Achievements are celebrated widely and this is motivating young people well.

The following areas for improvement were identified and discussed with the headteacher and a representative from Renfrewshire Council

- Senior leaders have correctly identified learning and teaching as a key priority in the school improvement plan. Maintaining this focus on high-quality learning and teaching will help to ensure that all learners experience learning and teaching that meets their needs.
- Continue to improve attainment, particularly building on recent improvements in young people's attainment in numeracy.
- Continue to develop the skills of staff at all levels in using information and data to inform and evaluate priorities for improvement.

We gathered evidence to enable us to evaluate the school's work using quality indicators from How good is our school? \(4th edition\). Quality indicators help schools, local authorities and inspectors to judge what is working well and what needs to be improved. Following the inspection of each school, the Scottish Government gathers details of our evaluations to keep track of how well Scottish schools are doing.

Here are Education Scotland's evaluations for Park Mains High School

Quality indicators	Evaluation
Learning, teaching and assessment	good
Raising attainment and achievement	good
Descriptions of the evaluations are available from: How good is our school? (4th edition), Appendix 3: The six-point scale.

A more detailed document called Summarised Inspection Findings (SIF) will be available on the Education Scotland website at:

What happens next?

We are confident that the school has the capacity to continue to improve and so we will make no more visits in connection with this inspection. Renfrewshire Council will inform parents/carers about the school's progress as part of its arrangements for reporting on the quality of its schools.
